92 Minutes Long

Available in Both VHS and DVD, 1998 Release Year

This documentary is about the December 1965 crash of an acorn-shaped object in the woods in Pennsylvania. Stan Gordon has spent decades researching and finding eyewitnesses of this strange incident. There is some evidence that the object was taken to Lockbourne Air Force Base in Columbus, Ohio and later to Wright-Patterson A.F.B. in Dayton.

The eyewitnesses tell their story in this film. Don't expect History Channel type graphics or special effects or a famous actor narrating it. Since the video came out, Leslie Kean filed a Freedom of Information Act Request. The quest for answers continues.
